The Gospel According to You

*If no one but you in the world today
Had tried to live the Christ-like way,
Could the rest of the world look close at you
And find the path that is straight and true?
Ah, friend of the Christ, in the world today
Are many who watch you on your way,
And look to the things you say and do
To measure the Christian standard true.
Men read and admire the gospel of Christ
With its love unailing and true,
But what do they say and what do they think
Of the gospel according to you?

In our ever changing culture today, there seems to be more and more issues arising every day. From marriage issues, to military action, to taxes and health-care, even to the rejection of Christianity, there always seems to be something coming up for us to deal with. Law enforcement is scrutinized and cast as villainous tyrants preying on the weak, or so the media would have you believe.

All of these things have something in common however, and something that as we move forward will continue to affect our lives and futures. All of these issues arise from secular leadership. Law enforcement, politicians, Governors, even the President, are all secular leaders, whether for better or worse. So, the question for this week is,

How do Christians deal with secular leadership?

What are we to do when it comes to secular authority? How are we to act and react to the government officials of our nation? How do we act to the enforcement branches of our nations and cities? What are our responsibilities as Christians to secular authority? This is an exercise to grow closer together while growing in knowledge and understanding of God's word. Note: These are discussion questions. They are meant to create deep thought and consideration in order to strengthen us spiritually. As such, answers such as the Bible says so, Jesus says so, or God says so are not enough. Prove that God and Jesus said so through scripture. Use passages of the Bible to strengthen your discussion. Grow closer together and more importantly, grow closer to God together.
