clothes for a Childrens Home they support in Panama and the University Church at Faulkner University in Montgomery will send a large truck to Panama in the fall with clothing for the church's mission work there. Several of us are sewing and making clothes, but we need clothes in all sizes from 2T to size 18, both boys and girls. These can be made or purchased. There are some stipulations on the clothes since Panama is a very hot climate and there are some additional items that they need along with the clothes that would have to be purchased. If you would like to help with this work, please see Gail Adams for a handout with details.

Clothes for the Church's mission in Panama

It's great that we have been granted another Lord's day to come together to worship Him. Happy Father's Day to all of our dads and granddads with us this morning. I hope you will enjoy the following article on "The Difference a Dad Makes."

Being a father is not easy; it's worth it! The Bible gives instructions about how to do it right. For example, notice Ephesians 6:4, "And you, fathers, do not provoke your children to wrath, but bring them up in the training and admonition of the Lord." How do you bring up a child in the training and admonition of the Lord? Notice what fathers can do for their children...

- 1. PRAY FOR THEM. There are many biblical examples of fathers praying for their children: Jairus (Mark 5); the father with the demoniac son (Mark 9); Job (1:5) and David. Toward the end of his life, as David prepared to pass leadership to his son Solomon, he prayed a special prayer: "give my son Solomon a loyal heart to keep Your commandments and Your testimonies and Your statutes, to do all these things, and to build the temple for which I have made provision" (1 Chron. 29:19). Pray for them and with them. Let them hear your prayers to God. One of the greatest gifts you can give your children is prayer.
- 2. SPEND TIME WITH THEM. A recent survey revealed: The average five year old spends only 25 minutes per week with his father and most children spend 35 hours per week with some type of digital device. No wonder we have difficulty influencing our children. Notice God's Word: "And these words which I command you today shall be in your heart. You shall teach them diligently to your children, and shall talk of them when you sit in your house, when you walk by the way, when you lie down, and when you rise up" (Deut. 6:6-7). Moses stresses the importance of spiritual growth. Spending time with your children is an investment. When you give your children your time, you are giving them your heart.
- 3. GIVE THEM RESPONSIBILITY. In Matthew 21, Jesus told of a father with two sons. He sent both to work. One son told his father he would work, but didn't. The other told that he would not work, but changed his mind and did. By giving his sons responsibility, the father learned which son was obedient and which one was not. Our children need responsibility. Giving them responsibility means letting go of the reins and allowing them to make their journey into maturity. It will strengthen their confidence.
- 4. GIVE THEM A SENSE OF IDENTITY. It is important that your children hear about heroes in your family. The best are heroes of faith who made an impact on the history of the church. Hebrews 11 emphasizes the greatness of faithful obedience. The Lord said to Moses, "tell in the hearing of your son and your son's son the mighty things I have done in Egypt, and My signs which I have done among them, that you may know that I [am] the LORD" (Exod. 10:2). Identity strengthens our knowledge and wisdom.

A father that gives his heart to his children will pass the test of fatherhood. It has nothing to do with money, power or success. The thing children want most from their dads is their time. -selected
