TODAY - Georgia AGAPE Annual Thanksgiving Appeal. Today we join with churches all over Georgia to help make a difference in the lives of disadvantaged children. Protecting the fatherless, looking after the orphans and serving "homeless" children is a great calling of the church. Today, we make another statement about the tremendous compassion and generosity of Christians. Please give generously. If you are not prepared to participate today, we hope you will still participate by sending your contribution directly to AGAPE or you can give it to one of the elders or the church office. Lets all do what we can to help this important ministry!

On Tuesday of last week, the contentious marathon called an American presidential election came to an end. The curious system that has both a popular vote tally and a decisive Electoral College total rendered a verdict in the Obama-Romney contest.

If your candidate won, can you assume that his every promise will be kept promptly and without fail? That his leadership will establish American prestige abroad and prosperity at home? That a stable peace is at hand? That we are secure from terrorism, health pandemic and partisan gridlock in Washington? You know better. The election of neither candidate will turn the wasteland of our spiritual, economic, and political landscape into the Garden of Eden.

If your candidate lost, perhaps will you are demoralized with the thought that all is lost? That his position over the next four years is guaranteed to bring about the collapse of the American experiment, if not the ruin of the world? That he will turn out to be the Anti-Christ who will plunge the world into Armageddon? That it will be time to plan for a return to the Dark Ages or life in a cave? You know better. The election of neither candidate will destroy the country, shatter the global economy, or make it impossible for godly people to seek the Kingdom of God.

Perhaps that last sentence is the key to what believers need to remember. I love the United States of America and cherish my citizenship here, but it is not my ultimate loyalty or hope for a meaningful life. This wonderful country is not the Kingdom of God. And the Kingdom of God can neither be defeated by any of its failures nor be kept from thriving in any corner of Planet Earth.

In the glory days of the Roman Empire, an apostle of Jesus Christ wrote this: "We are citizens of heaven, where the Lord Jesus Christ lives," he said. "And we are eagerly waiting for him to return as our Savior" (Philippians 3: 20 NLT).

A believer's ultimate allegiance – and hope – is in the reign of God. Her hope is not in a human system, political party, or leader; it is in Jesus Christ. Nothing can take his Savior's promises from him – nor be so precious to him.

I've lived long enough to have heard it before: "This is the most important election in our lifetimes, and everything we hold sacred is at stake!"

Oh, I hope not. While every election is important and has consequences, God will still be sovereign over his universe in the morning. And nothing as valuable as what he has already given us in Christ will have been gained or lost through whatever happens with our vote.

Between Election Day and Jesus' Return, honor the dignity of your fellow-human beings. Stay closely connected to your Christian community. Worship God. Show respect to your government. (Paraphrase of 1 Peter 2: 17.) F.o.L.

*In Him,
Terry*
