In Our Prayers

Peggy Walker remains in CCU in fragile condition. She developed an infection last week.

Betty Bevins is in Gilmer Nursing Home, room 103 undergoing rehab on her foot.

Zach Pritchett was seeing a new specialist this past Friday for continued health problems. Hopefully dr's will be able to determine something soon.

Don McKee will be having hernia surgery Thursday, January 24th at Piedmont Atlanta,

Dale Cummings will have surgery on January 29th for his back.

Larry and Genell Cantrell continue to have health issues. Genell has been suffering with a kidney infection the last several days.

Eulyeen Callihan has not been feeling well the last several weeks, and for the most part is homebound. If you would like to send a note or card:

Deadline for Lads to Leader Article is today. Articles need to be typed, double spaced, 200-250 words. Please see Chandra ASAP if you need her to proofread or edit.

Many things about your life boil down to the hand you have been dealt. You can't change the fact that you were born in that place and with certain givens for your appearance, IQ, or physical skills. Education and training can open some doors for you, but they cannot change your past, make you taller and more athletic, or alter the fact that some people are unfair in the way they treat you.

In spite of the fact that most of our life circumstances are beyond our control, we are all still tempted to fret and complain about things that cannot be changed. Of course they cause distress. They certainly put us at a disadvantage in certain contexts. They mustn't be allowed to define or defeat us.

The people who do best with life move beyond the temptation to whine and feel sorry for themselves. They face their disappointments and move beyond them. They acknowledge life's bad breaks and look for ways to turn them into growth moments. They work from a half-full rather than half-empty glass mindset.

These people have a different attitude than the defeatist and whiner. They have found a way to make lemonade from their lemons.

There is a section in John Baillie's A Diary of Private Prayer that reads . . .
Teach me, O God, so to use all the circumstances of my life today that they may bring forth in me the fruits of holiness rather than the fruits of sin.

Let me use disappointment as material for patience;
Let me use success as material for thankfulness;
Let me use suspense as material for perseverance;
Let me use danger as material for courage;
Let me use reproach as material for longsuffering;
Let me use praise as material for humility;
Let me use pleasures as material for temperance;
Let me use pains as material for endurance.

When a given day begins, countless things are headed your way over which you have no control. It may be bad weather or someone's bad temper, a deadline that won't budge or a client equally resistant to change. The one factor you can control through it all is your attitude toward them.

Your attitude today will make all the difference in everything that matters (Modified -R.S.)

Because He Rose,
Terry
