Cut to the Chase

As my time here draws to a close, I reflect back on the many wonderful things that I have experienced while I have been here. I want to thank all of you for making my experience the best that it could be. I would not have traded any of my experiences for anything. I will remember and cherish every moment I have spent with all of you. This week, I have thought about what I can leave you with that will help you to grow when I am gone. Over the past three months, I have written questions for you to take home and share with your families in order to help you grow in the word and grow closer together. I hope they have been of great value to you and your families. So, my final question for you all is...

What are we doing for the Lord?

What actions are we taking to grow God's kingdom? What are we doing to build up our families spiritually? What are we doing to fulfill God's commands for us in our lives? As always, this is an opportunity for us to grow closer together and grow closer to God. Do not cheat yourselves out of a good study. Answers such as, God said so, or the bible said so, are not enough. Use scripture, the living word of God, His will for our lives to determine the things we should be doing. This is an opportunity for us to grow closer together. Take advantage of the time that you have, as short as it may be. "Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, making the best use of the time, because the days are evil." I thank you for all you have done for me while I have been here. It has been a privilege to work with you all. And remember, I love you all dearly.

In Christian love,

Morgan Chase Sharp
