

We are so glad that you are with us today! Our service will be to praise and worship God and to encourage and uplift us to face another week. We will sing (Eph. 5:19, Col. 3:16), pray (James 5:15-18), and partake of the Lord's Supper to remember our Savior's sacrifice on the cross (Acts 20:7, 1 Cor. 11:23-26). We will also give back a portion of the monetary blessings that God has granted us so that we can carry out His work in our community (1 Cor. 16:2, 2 Cor. 9:7). We will also study a lesson from His Word that will hopefully be applicable to our daily lives, so that we can be equipped to handle the pressures of this world and reach those outside of Christ (2 Tim. 2:15).

Cut to the Chase

The warm weather this past week has been nice, and yet it has done nothing but torment me with visions of foggy waterfront mornings and fish on the line. I was not able to be much of a hunter growing up. I always wanted to go hunting, but my family are not avid hunters. Fishing on the other hand, I had plenty of practice with. I have spent many days on the lake with a line in the water, relaxing and enjoying being a part of the great outdoors.

There are several important factors to being a successful. An angler must know what bait to use, which type of lure, or even what type of rig to set up to have a successful day on the water. Just as important, however, is knowing how to set the hook. All of these other things are important, but if you cannot set the hook, they are ultimately worthless.

When I read James 1:14, I think of fishing. The English Standard Version even uses the word "lured" in its translation of the text. As we go about our daily lives, there is one who seeks to capture us and draw us away from God. You see, the Devil is a fisherman too. He knows his prey, the lures to use, and many other things that he can use against us to draw us away from God. When we are tempted, in a similar way to a fish, we see the lure in the water. We may even decide to move in closer for a better look. Eventually we will try to take a bite of whatever floats in front of us, and that is when the Devil sets the hook. Christians should be alert, and aware of our spiritual surroundings. When we see the lures in our lives, we should recognize them and turn away from them, rather than closing in to take a bite. When we let our guard down, and treat temptation with ease and passiveness, we allow the devil a chance to set the hook and reel us in. We must resist the lures of sin and evil, otherwise, we too may end up in the fire.

Youth News

There will be a parents meeting on Wednesday starting at 6. It is crucial that every parent attend this meeting. We hope to see you all there.

Lads To Leaders - For the last few years, we have asked for donations for snacks, but this year we are accepting donations to buy gift cards for all the children who are participating in Lads to Leaders at the convention so they might buy snacks and drinks at the food court. Please see Tim or Pam to make any donations.
